Education Week

Thank you to everyone for taking an interest in students who did not have a visitor to attend. It was greatly appreciated.

Book Donations

'Thank you' for your generous donations of new Library books. As soon as the books are accessioned and covered, students will be able to borrow them. If anyone would still like to donate, please see Mrs Corbett as there are still some titles remaining.

Anti-Bullying

In last Wednesday's P&C meeting I shared resources and information about bullying and anti-bullying from the NSW anti-bullying website. Please click on the hyperlink below to access resources and information for parents and carers. I have also attached two (2) fact sheets, so the school community can develop a shared understanding of bullying. The school's reviewed Anti-bullying Plan will be shared at the next P&C meeting.

STEMSHARE (STEM: Science, Technology, Engineering, Maths) Share: Term 4

The Department of Education (DoE) has recently announced the STEMSHARE project addressing future focused learning and digital technologies. The DoE provides kits of STEM equipment for schools to trial for one term, beginning in term 4. The kits include enough equipment for classroom use and are supported with learning challenges and training support. There are currently six kits: Tablet (iPad) Robotics, PC Robotics, 3D Printing, Virtual Reality, Filming and Coding.

Following on from last term's Robokids program, we have been successful in securing the Tablet Robotics kit which includes iPads loaded with the necessary software and apps, Blue Bots, Dash Bots and Lego We Do 2.0. The kit will be delivered towards the end of this term. This project will support familiarisation of the digital technologies component of the revised Science Syllabus, which will be implemented next year.

Fairytale Fiasco Incursion:* Thursday 16 August

The incursion links to English and Drama of the Creative Arts Syllabus. The cost of this incursion is $14.00 per student. Payment may be made in cash, in the box in the school office or through the POP (Parent Online Payment) method on our school website.
