School photos

Sandpit Photographers were on site last Monday. The school expects the photographs to be sent to the school within the next 2 weeks. The photos will be in the office for parents and caregivers to look through and make their selection as per the information previously sent home. We will let the community know as soon as the photos arrive in the office.

The Gruffalo

From all reports, the students and teachers really enjoyed the Gruffalo performance. The excursion is based upon the award winning book by Julia Donaldson and Axel Scheffler, with links to both the English and Drama syllabus. Thank you to Mrs K. for the photos.

Schools Clean Up Day 2019

Students participated in Schools Clean Up Day 2019 in our playground and gardens last Friday. All students received a certificate today for their participation in the event. It is testament to our students that we had minimal litter in our school grounds. Well done!

Worry Woos Program

All students were introduced to Twitch, the character with the feelings and behaviours of frustration. The related story book led to a discussion about the impact of such feelings on Twitch and others.

The Young Archies

Our school's entrants for the Young Archies competition will be decided this week. As there is a limit on the number of entries, parents of those students will be contacted by me and a parental permission note will be sent home. Parental consent and a signature needs to be returned to the Office by the end of the week for me to submit our entries to the NSW Art Gallery on the weekend. Please see the hyperlink <https://www.artgallery.nsw.gov.au/prizes/young-archie/> for further information.

Library

Thank you to all students who return their Library books and bring their Library bag to school every Friday.

The Teddy Bears Picnic will be held under our tree in the playground on Friday 8 March, beginning at 11.15am (first half lunch). Students may bring their favourite bear to school for the picnic. Students may wear mufti, that is normal sun safe clothing and hat, instead of school uniform. Parents/caregivers are welcome to join us for the teddy bears picnic, first half of lunch, weather permitting. Parents, please remind mindful not to share food with other children due to the dietary requirements of some of our students.
